

Alice in Wonderland

Alice spots a white rabbit and follows him down a rabbit hole.

At the bottom she spies a beautiful garden but is too large to fit through the door.

She drinks a potion which shrinks her but is then too small to reach the key to the door.

A magical cake makes her larger but she then she is again too large for the door.

Crying in frustration, she shrinks again by fanning herself

And swims to the Shore of the pool of tears she has created.

The white rabbit orders her to fetch his gloves. Alice grows large and Becomes stuck in his house... More magic cakes shrink her enough to escape

To the woods where a caterpillar advises her

To control her size by eating a mushroom...

Alice arrives at the house of the Duchess where the cook

Heavily peppers the soup making everyone sneeze.

The Duchess's baby turns into a pig!

The Cheshire Cat remarks he will see her at the Queen's croquet party.

She visits the tea party of the March Hare, Dormouse and Mad Hatter,

But she tires of their riddles and departs.

A door in a tree leads to the beautiful garden where

White roses are being painted red.

Alice is invited to play croquet with the Queen of Hearts

She notes the court is all a pack of cards!

Very oddly the game is played with flamingos as mallets.

Soon play is over and it's time for the trial of the Knave of Hearts.

The trial becomes wildly illogical – called as a witness, Alice is attacked by the playing cards

Batting at them she wakes and realizes they are only leaves that fluttered from the trees

As she lay dreaming on the river bank...
